

- 2013 Terrer d'Aubert Tarragona ($30)
Cabernet Sauvignon
From Tarragona on the Spain's Mediterranean coast these vineyards lie within a mile and half of the sea, their soils composed of calcareous loam derived from shell (fossil) limestone. The wine has black cherry, blackberry, licorice; graphite and toasty flavors mingle in this polished, harmonious red. The long finish shows floral and mineral notes.
- 2013 Duckhorn Vineyards Paradoxx Red ($30)
73% Cabernet Sauvignon, 13% Merlot, 10% Zinfandel, 4% Petit Verdot
Paradoxx is Duckhorn's Napa winery on the Silverado Trail that focus on blending. Blended around a core of 73% Cabernet Sauvignon, this is a structured and age-worthy expression of Napa juice. Aged 18 months in oak (95% French, 5% American) of which 50% is new and 50% second use. The nose offers deep, concentrated aromas of blackberry cobbler and rich brambly fruit. The palate is soft and rich, with balanced tannins framing lush layers of blueberry, blackberry and spice, all of which carry through to a long, supple finish. Usually $48 we got a limited time price today on the Duxx.
- 2013 Corte alla Flora, Pugnietello Toscana ($29)
Pugnietello, an indigenous red Tuscan grape, means 'little fist' and refers to the grape's tight bunches on the vines. The vine produces small grapes with thick skins. They have intense dark color with ample tannins and good acid. The wine has a beautiful deep red color. The nose of ripe fruit has notes of blueberry and sensations of cloves and tobacco. In the mouth, it is velvety with sensations that recall the berries and surprisingly balance between structure and acidity.
- 2015 Monteabellon Avaniel Ribera del Duero ($10)
Tempranillo
Surprisingly complex and spicy, the wine has an attractive nose of spice box, blueberry and blackberry. This is followed by a medium-bodied wine with a supple texture. Was $12 now $10
- 2012 Basel Cellars Claret ($15)
52% Cabernet Sauvignon, 31% Malbec, 12% Merlot, 5% Cabernet Franc
