

M³ SELECTIONS

- 2008 Marques de Grignon Summa Varietalis $22
70% Syrah, 14% Cabernet Sauvignon, 16% Petit Verdot
One of the big guns from the Grignon estate. Rich notes of dark berries, clove, smoke and pepper. On the palate, layers of mineral and fruit notes are interwoven, accompanied by soft tannins, silky texture and excellent concentration. Was $33 now $22
- 2009 Prado Rey Elite $25
Briary berry, leather and animal aromas comprise the bouquet on this full-forced effort. Astringent and jumpy in feel, it has piercing acidity, propelling the tangy flavors of berry, currant and plum. It's toasty, offering a pinch of tobacco on the finish. Was $35 now $25
- 2015 Cap Leon Veyrin Lustrac-Medoc $20
55% Merlot, 45% Cabernet Cabernet
This wine is rich, dense and structured. It has plenty of tannins as well as generous black-plum and spice flavors. Wood aging added light toastiness and is smoothing out the fruit. Was $30 now $20
- 2012 Tacchino Albarola $15
Barbera del Monferrato
Big, rich and deep. Powerful plum and dark berries on the smooth, brightly acidic but harmonious palate, with youthfully chewy tannins. A burly Barbera. This one takes at least an hour to open up.
Was $19 Now $15
- 2012 Curatolo Arini Coralto $11
Nero d'Avola
Violets and red cherries, plums and hints of white pepper. On the palate this wine is medium-bodied with beautifully intense red fruit characters matched by delicate notes of spices and soft tannins.
13.4% alcohol by volume
- 2014 Mas Blanc Philoums ~Collioure $12
Syrah, Mourvedre, Grenache, Counoise
From a small estate near Banyuls, this Southern French Red has an earthy overtone above the dark fruit.
13% alcohol by volume
